With all our running to and fro another year has come and gone. Twenty thirteen is behind us and now we face the challenge of a new year. Facing the future can be challenging and a bit apprehensive, yet at the same time it can be filled with great excitement. Best thing is God wants us to be successful in that which we seek to accomplish in this new year. Today I want to give you three things upon which to focus. Call them resolutions is you wish, but if we make these focuses a priority, we will have a successful and blessed year. Happy New Year!
